TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Public International Law (introductory and advanced)* **

World Politics (introductory and advanced)

International Organization

International Cooperation

Global Environmental Cooperation

Political Economy

Game Theory

Research Design (qualitative and quantitative)

Numerous small seminars/half-courses on topics including Human Rights, Treaty Reservations, How to Create an Original Dataset, and the United States and International Law

*Transformed the course into an Upper-Level Writing Seminar after attending a semester-long mini-course at the University of Michigan's Sweetland Writing Center. I was part of a group of scholars from multiple disciplines all of whom share a commitment to integrating writing into their courses.

Integrated short writing assignments into these courses after attending a semester-long mini-course that brings together faculty and graduate student instructors from multiple disciplines to explore writing as a means of learning in STEM courses. I was introduced to the pedagogy behind writing-to-learn as opposed to learning-to-write assignments.
