

YOUR ST. LOUIS TO-DO LIST

(According to ISR's Bob Kaikati)

THE CITY MUSEUM

“The City Museum is essentially a playhouse for adults and children alike, with tight, claustrophobic crawl tunnels that snake in and out of the building, ramps, swinging ropes, and a big old slide that runs from two floors up to the exit.”

BUSCH STADIUM

“You’ll get a true feel for St. Louis if you can make it to a Cardinals game. You’ll want to see the crowds because St. Louis is a baseball town... As long as they’re not playing the Cubs, they’re happy fans.” You’ll have to catch a game against the Brewers May 5 (6:45 pm) or get to the day game May 6.

FOREST PARK

“Forest Park is on my big-3 list of things to do in St. Louis because it has so many things to do– an art museum, a history museum, and a greenhouse that is not worth mentioning. It also has a free zoo that is one of the best in the nation.”

THE ARCH

The Jefferson National Expansion Memorial that includes the Gateway Arch commemorates the Lewis and Clark Expedition, Thomas Jefferson’s vision of westward expansion, and the site of a fictional battle scene in which Percy Jackson falls improbably into the Mississippi River. Bob says: “It’s the gateway to the West. Once you made it out there in the 1800s, you were ready for your adventure.”
